

Restaurants in Budapest

Übersetzung folgt ...

With so many restaurants in Budapest choosing a place to eat out is not an easy task. Our city has more than 1 500 restaurants, cafes and other eateries.

A bad restaurant experience can ruin your whole visit. Let us give you a helping hand using our local knowledge.

Obviously we haven't had the chance to test all restaurants, but we asked Gitta's family and friends to gather reliable and useful information to help you decide where to eat.

Tipping in Restaurants

Many places include 10 % service fee in the bill, in this case we most often don't give a tip. If the service fee isn't included we usually give around a 10 % tip to the waiter.

A good advice: Always Review the bill and feel free to tell the waiter if you don't understand something. Usually we don't leave the tip on the table, but round up the bill by 10 percent (less or more, depending on your decision).

Klassz étterem - Hungarian cuisine, modern atmosphere, good wines. We ate there last summer, and we certainly would like to go back next time. They don't take reservations, but it's worth a try. The location is very central, near the Deak Square on the Andrassy Street.

<http://www.klasszetterem.hu/index.php?lang=en>

Borkonyha - Means wine kitchen. This Michelin-star-owner restaurant offers a blend of a French-style bistro and a contemporary family restaurant offering good Hungarian dishes.

<http://www.borkonyha.hu/?lang=eng>

New York Salon - Fine dining with creative cuisine accompanied with excellent Hungarian wines.

<http://budapest.boscolohotels.com/restaurants-and-bars/restaurant-new-york-salon/>

Robinson étterem -Near to the Heroes' square in Mediterranean environment, homely atmosphere, live Latin guitar music and an excellent kitchen serving Hungarian as well as international food.

<http://www.robinsonrestaurant.hu/>

21 étterem - Great local cuisine in the castle district. Hungarian cuisine as it used to be in the "good old days", updated to the 21st century: While maintaining the original real taste in a concentrated way, the dishes are lighter than the old fashioned Hungarian cuisine.

<http://21restaurant.hu/eng/index.php>

Bock Bisztro – On the main Ring, central location. Beautiful venue, impressive variety of Hungarian wines with some good traditional Hungarian food. Bock is famous vineyard with awesome wines from the Villány region

<http://bockbisztropest.hu/>

Lugas étterem – At the St. Stephan Dom, central location, versatile menu, mostly Hungarian cuisine for a very attractive price.

<http://lugas-etterem.com/>

Horgásztanya - on the Buda side in the 1st district. They serve some typical Hungarian fish dishes

<http://www.horgasztanyavendeglo.hu/>

Vakvarjú – Central location, versatile food mostly Hungarian. Ideal also with kids because

Anreise

Ausflüge

Ungarische Hochzeitsbräuche

asked Gitta's family and friends to gather reliable and useful information to help you decide where to eat.

Ungarisch Wörterbuch

Restaurants in Budapest

Zeremonienmeister

Startseite

they have a separate play ground.

<http://pest.vakvarju.com/>

Time Out Corner – On the main ring a smaller restaurant, with some typical Hungarian dishes for a very good price. Also ideal for a quick snack for lunch or drinks. Unfortunately no English website.

<http://www.timeoutcorner.hu/>

Pozsonyi Kisvendéglő – Tasty traditional food with old-school atmosphere. Big portions good value.

http://www.tripadvisor.co.uk/Restaurant_Review-g274887-d1049440-Reviews-Pozsonyi_Kisvendeglo-Budapest_Central_Hungary.html

Kakas Étterem – Traditional food, traditional atmosphere

<http://www.kakasetterem.hu/>

Retro Büfe - If you have time you should try the traditional Hungarian langos. Either for lunch or at night after the parties, this place is opened on weekdays until 2am on weekends until 6am.

<https://www.facebook.com/retrolangos>

Granny's Pancake house, "Nagyi Palacsintázoja" - Fast food - hungarian style. Pancakes, pancakes and more pancakes. Sweet pancakes, savoury pancakes and pancakes stuffed with pancakes. There are 5 locations in Budapest. When you enter the restaurant you will probably see a lot of locals and also tourists stand in a long line. The line is very quick and the food is very tasty and cheap. I used to eat there after parties, because its opened 24/7 J

<http://www.nagyipali.hu/ettermeink.html>

The Best Burgers of Budapest:

<http://welovebudapest.com/kavezok.ettermek/megmutatjuk.a.fovaros.legjobb.hamburgereit>

If you are tired of traditional food, here are some examples for international cuisine:

Japanese:

Wasabi <http://www.wasabi.hu/>

Bambuszliget <http://www.bambuszliget.hu/>

Spanish

Pata Negra Kálvinon <http://www.patanegra.hu/>

Belgian

Belga söröző Bem rakparton - <http://www.belgasorozo.com/fooldal>

Mosselen - <http://mosselen.hu/>

Italien

Trattoria Toscana - <http://www.toscana.hu/>

Pomo D'oro - <http://www.pomodorobudapest.com/#>

Startseite